99 Bead Tasbih

The most common use of Tasbih beads is as a prayer rosary to keep track of the number of times a phrase has been repeated whilst praying or chanting.

The most popular choice is a 99 beads Tasbih described a 3 x 33. The 99 beads are divided into 3 sets of 33, each set being made up of slightly larger beads than the one preceding it. This allows the worshiper to count off 33 beads in each set as he repeats 33 times each of the following prayers:

"Astagfirullah" - "I seek God's forgiveness"

"Al-hamdu'ilah" - "Thanks be to God"

"Subhan'Allah" - "Glory or praise be to God"

Tasbih can be made from all sorts of materials such as wood, plastic, gold, silver and gemstones.
